The course material is presented primarily during on-snow skiing sessions and is supported by evening programmes and seminar sessions.

This training week constitutes 30 hours of training under the auspices of the training school Ski Academy Europe as organised by Ski Astons

To progress to the PSIA level I exam candidates are required to attend a further 20 to 25 hours of training to consolidate the skills covered in the foundation week.

Ski Astons offer a condensed 7 day course to include 4 days of training followed by a three day exam programme consisting of a combination of evaluation and training. In the examined process candidates should be prepared to lead a group through instruction scenarios and will be assessed in each of the three main categories of skiing, teaching and professional knowledge. A pledge system also exists allowing candidates to reduce the cost of the examined course further. In this instance, individuals may pledge their services as a ski tutor/guide during certain weeks of the season. Expenses that would be received are deducted from the total cost of the course. An example of possible reductions is illustrated below:

Cost of Course (7 day)	£ 1299
Minus subsidy	£ 200
Minus pledged expenses (max 2 weeks)	£ 400
Minimum payable cost	£ 669

Pledges and subsidies are conditional to successful completion of the course.

Unsuccessful candidates not in possession of an on snow ski qualification will not be able to offer their services to us and therefore will be required to pay the balance of the amount pledged plus the subsidy immediately. Candidates are granted pledges subject to application.

Applicants for pledges must be over 18yrs of age. There may be situations where despite passing the trainer may recommend the successful candidates shadows a group before being responsible for their own group in the first instance.
